

Patrols Move in Cyprus to Keep the Peace

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British patrols moved through Nicosia today to keep the peace on explosive Cyprus, but disagreement delayed plans for Greek and Turkish soldiers to join them.

At the southeast port of Larnaca, a British soldier was shot and slightly wounded in the shoulder while on a similar patrol. The patrols are designed primarily for the protection of British civilians.

In Nicosia, however, the British were waved through roadblocks of both Greek and Turkish armed Cypriots, whose fighting in five bloody days beginning last Saturday caused grave international concern.

Commanders of the British, Greek and Turkish garrisons stationed on this eastern Mediterranean island met in the morning but were unable to agree on the composition of the mixed patrols.

"We have British patrols out, whose primary purpose is to protect British families," Lt. Gen. P.G. Young, British army commander on Cyprus, told reporters after the meeting. Young said there were no Greek and Turkish army patrols out and it would take longer to organize them because of

Tippitt Fund Now Up to $400,000

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Contributions in 1,500 letters processed Thursday raised the J.D. Tippitt fund to beyond $400,000.

The total stood at $405,301.81 when counters at police headquarters quit for the day.

Lt. V. K. Hipskind said the tabulation crew still has 7½ mail sacks to process. At an average of 3,000 letters to a sack, that means roughly 22,500 letters.

The fund is being raised for the family of a Dallas policeman who was slain as he questioned a suspect in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

U.S. Strongly Protests to Bulgarians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today it is making a strong protest and demanding compensation for the damage a mob of 3,000 Bulgarians caused at the U.S. legation in Sofia during an hour-long attack.

At the same time State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips scornfully labeled as a "show trial" the Sofia government's action against a Bulgarian ex-diplomat accused of spying for the United States.

The demonstration which resulted in many broken windows and overturned automobiles at the U.S. legation ostensibly was a kind of public protest against the alleged U.S. use of a Bulgarian citizen as a spy.

But officials here said they were not certain what the real purpose of the demonstration was; they only said that truly spontaneous outburst of public indignation against some foreign government are not usual in Communist lands. Such upheavals are ordinal government-inspired there.

The demonstration was broken up by mounted Bulgarian police about an hour after it began. The police went into action after the legation had asked for protection.

Living Cost in U.S. Is Up Some

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs, as measured by the government, rose two-tenths of one per cent in November to a new high.

The Labor Department reported today that the increase resulted mainly from higher housing and food costs, although prices of many other goods and services also advanced.

The November consumer price index, at 107.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average, was 1.3 per cent above a year earlier.

The figure means that consumer items which could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period now cost $10.74.

Food prices, which usually decline in November, increased 0.2 per cent. Advances in prices of fresh fruits and vegetables and sugar were the principal factors. Fresh vegetables were up 7.8 per cent and sugar rose 6.7 per cent.

Housing costs advanced 0.3 per cent during November.

In a companion report, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported a 2-cent rise in average hourly earnings of factory workers to $2.49 an hour.

Take home pay—gross earnings less Social Security and federal income taxes—rose by 46 cents to $88.77 a week for workers with three dependents.

A worker without dependents received $80.93. In each case, this represented a gain over a year ago of about $2.50.

Much of the deteriorating U.S.-Cambodian relationship results from Sihanouk's belief that the United States, along with its Vietnamese allies, is backing the movement of Cambodian rebels. The United States has denied any complicity.

The new record, however, is the result of more foreign cars being sold. Ward's said some 373,000 imports were sold this year compared with 52,000 in 1955.

Sales of domestic cars in 1963 totaled 7,127,000 as against 7,408,000 in 1955, Ward's said. The trade publication based its 1963 figure on sales from Jan. 1 to Dec. 20.

NEW ATTACKS — Steel-helmeted Greek Cypriot police return fire during a battle with Turkish Cypriots at the Paphos police station in Nicosia, Cyprus. Government sources said new attacks by the Turkish Cypriots broke a cease-fire agreement. In an attempt to end the bloody fighting, both the Turkish and Greek Cypriots have agreed to place their army units under the command of British troops.

NEITHER SLEET NOR SNOW — When a 14-inch snow in Memphis, Tenn., put a stop to other services, mailmen lived up to tradition and delivered the mail, with a few times out for a quick smoke. Postman Gilbert Johnson found this perfect place for a rest as he finished his rounds.

Cambodia, U.S. Try to End Trouble

By CARL ZIMMERMAN

MANILA (AP)—The United States and neutralist Cambodia have agreed to try to settle their dispute with the help of the Philippines.

"Initial contacts have been made and will continue," Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez of the Philippines said today. "So far the situation seems encouraging."

U.S.-Cambodian relations deteriorated rapidly after the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, announced Nov. 19 he would accept no more American aid and ordered U.S. military and economic personnel to leave his Southeast Asian nation. There have been fears in the West that Cambodia is drifting toward Communist China.

Lopez said he conferred twice with U.S. Ambassador William E. Stevenson, and the Philippine ambassador in South Viet Nam has been in contact with the Philippine consulate general in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

In Washington, U.S. sources said Filipino President Diosdado Macapagal offered the use of his good offices last Friday. But indications are the United States is approaching the matter cautiously since it also involves U.S. relations with pro-Western South Viet Nam and Thailand, which border Cambodia and have historic disputes with it.

The foreign ministers of Cambodia and South Viet Nam are meeting in Saigon in an attempt to restore diplomatic relations, severed last August after the late President Ngo Dinh Diem's troops raided Buddhist pagodas in Viet Nam. Sihanouk is a Buddhist.

Much of the deteriorating U.S.-Cambodian relationship results from Sihanouk's belief that the United States, along with its Vietnamese allies, is backing the movement of Cambodian rebels. The United States has denied any complicity.

Many Graves Decorated in East Berlin

By CARL ZIMMERMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Many West Berliners crossing through the Communist wall for the first time in 28 months are spending part of their precious visits decorating graves in East Berlin.

"It's the first chance they've had since the wall went up," said the manager of one cemetery.

"For many," he said, "it's also the first time they've ever visited their mother's or father's grave if the parent died after the wall was built."

"If this happened, they couldn't even attend the funeral."

The manager pointed out that fresh wreaths on graves were being covered by steadily falling snow.

At the Sophien Cemetery, whose Western wall forms part of the barricade cutting Berlin in two, wreaths were leaned up against the wall facing the West. Each bore the name of someone buried behind the soot-covered Red brick wall.

"Those were put there by West Berliners who for some reason can't get into East Berlin during the holiday season," said a West Berlin policeman.

Fair, Dry Over Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair, dry weather covered most of the nation today, but parts of the Midwest and New England were stung with sub-zero temperatures.

The coldest temperature reported was in Old Town, Maine, where the mercury dipped to -25.

International Falls, Minn., which stays in deep freeze for months, was -1.

Elsewhere, relatively mild temperatures prevailed. The Weather Bureau said the mildness will remain static for several more days at least, with the possibility of some snowfall in many areas.

Some snow fell early today in the upper Mississippi Valley, Great Lakes and southern New England. The upper Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes regions were slickened with drizzle and rain in subfreezing temperatures.

Snow also fell in the northern Rockies and northern Plateau region with 1-3 inches of new accumulations in some places.

Light rain dampened northwestern California, western Washington and western Oregon.

Can't Figure How Statue Got There

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—How did a life-size statue of St. Anthony, to whom many people pray when they've lost something, happen to be found in a Manhattan subway station?

The Transit Authority got an answer Thursday night.

Etienne Agnan, a Haitian, said he had done statue repair work at St. Theresa's Roman Catholic church in Manhattan church officials, pleased with his work, gave him the statue.

He said he headed for the subway, but realized the statue was too big for a subway train. He left it on a mezzanine while he went outside to seek other transportation.

Before he returned, transit officials ordered it taken away. Agnan will get it back.

Wheat Deal With Russia Given Approval

By LEWIS GULICK
A.P. Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department has issued conditional licenses for sale of $40.6 million of wheat to Russia—but whether there will be a deal remains to be seen.

The two licenses—for $20,320,000 each—were issued Thursday to two unnamed American firms.

The permits allow the sale of the U.S. grain provided various conditions are met. These conditions, under announced U.S. government policy, include stipulations on financial and shipping terms.

If the Soviet Union agrees to these terms, then the two U.S. companies have permission to go through with the sale, a Commerce Department spokesman said.

Nearly three months ago, the late President John F. Kennedy gave the green light to proposed private sales of U.S. wheat to Russia. Soviet negotiators, however, have been balking at the American terms.

The Russians have objected particularly to the U.S. requirement that part of the grain be shipped on U.S. vessels, whose rates are higher than those of foreign shippers.

The U.S. traders who applied for the licenses were said to have indicated that the Russians were proposing to pay cash. This would appear to rule out complications over extending credit to them, although the licenses did not specifically require cash.

The shipping requirement has been the bigger stumbling block in the lengthy wheat discussions. The Soviets reportedly have not made much ado about demanding credit.

If the sales go through, they could be a forerunner of even bigger shipments.

The Soviets have shown interest in buying a total of some $250 million of U.S. grain.

The meal was to be served Western style from chuck wagons to tables, with red checkered cloths and lanterns.

Anti-American Group Hits U.S. Embassy

VIENNA (AP)—Anti-American demonstrators using icicles and ice chunks from the street smashed all windows on the first three floors of the U.S. legation in Sofia, Bulgaria, today. The demonstrators overturned four American cars outside.

In Washington, the U.S. government which recently had been warming its relations with the United States.

Reports reaching here by telephone from the U.S. legation mentioned no casualties among the legation staff.

The Bulgarian news agency BTA said the demonstration was in protest against alleged U.S. employment of a former Bulgarian diplomat, Ivan Asen Christ of Georgiev, as a spy.

"The demonstration was of university students and young people who expressed their indignation at the traitorous activity of the spy," BTA said.

Georgiev, No. 2 man of Communist Bulgaria's U.N. delegation from 1959 to 1961, pleaded guilty before Bulgaria's Supreme Court Thursday to spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. He implied that he expected the death penalty.

The legation spokesman said he felt Bulgarian police "took their time" in getting to the legation to drive off the demonstrators. He pointed out that a militiaman is stationed in front of the building at all times and has a telephone with which to summon aid if needed.

He said the demonstration began shortly after 11 a.m. but the police did not arrive until 11:45. Then they slowly began to force the demonstrators away.

By 12:15, the spokesman said, the situation appeared under control, and the crowd had been driven to the ends of the street on which the legation is located.

But "the demonstrators are still down the street and we think it would be unwise for any American to try to leave," he added.

The spokesman said a protest would be made to the Bulgarian Foreign Ministry. The American minister, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, is in the United States.

It was the first Bulgarian demonstration against the United States reported in almost two years.

On April 19, 1961, hundreds rallied in front of the legation to protest the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba. They hurled stones at the building and smashed windows.

In recent months Bulgarian Communist leaders have repeatedly hinted they would like better relations with the United States.

Last Evidence of Snow Fading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The final evidence of a storm that dumped up to 15 inches of snow on Arkansas should disappear by the weekend in the face of sunshine and mild temperatures.

The Weather Bureau said some snow still lingers in northeast and extreme east-central portions of the state. Temperatures in the 40s will further reduce snow amounts Saturday.

Mild air caused fog to form in eastern Arkansas Thursday night, but a southward moving cold front dispelled it.

Colder air covered the state today behind that front and temperatures will be 10 to 15 degrees lower in Western and Southern Arkansas.

Highs Thursday were in the 60s in the west and south and in the 40s in the northeast, while overnight lows fell to the upper 20s and low 30s.

The five-day outlook is for colder weather, beginning Saturday and little or no precipitation.

Gay Yule Is Observed by the Johnsons

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's Texas Christmas was a gay and busy day that included inspecting his cattle, delivering poinsettias to his neighbors, entertaining kinfolk, eating a big turkey dinner and taking a speedboat spin on a nearby lake.
He did it all in relaxed fashion, dressed in sporty khaki range pants, green and brown checked sports jacket and orange cowboy boots.
He even had time to lease another 40 acres "more stomping ground" to add to the Johnson holdings of 400 acres adjoining the placid Pedernales River.
Johnson kept the family's turkey dinner waiting while he hobnobbed with the press, whom he invited to take holiday pictures of the family. And he conducted the crowd of some 50 reporters and photographers on a tour of the 12-room stone and frame ranch house where the Johnsons' Christmas presents waited under an eight-foot cedar tree in his comfortable ground-floor office.
The weather was in the balmy 70s, but a heated outdoor swimming pool, covered with blue plastic "to keep the

Cyprus Interrupts His Vacation

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home interrupted his Christmas vacation to return to London today because of the Cyprus situation. He had been spending the holiday at his Scottish estate.

Stamp Collection Brings $1 Million

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The stamp collection of the late Philip H. Ward Jr., has been sold to a New Orleans dealer for $1.1 million.
Roger Weill, partner in the Raymond H. Weill Co., philatelists, said the collection, which had been appraised as high as $1.6 million, would be broken up and sold.
Ward, former president of Ward Electric Co., died last August at the age of 76. He left the electrical business to pursue stamp collecting full time in 1930.

General Dies

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Retired Gen. Chu Shao-liang, 73, a senior adviser to President Chiang Kai-shek, died Wednesday.

leaves out," was not used.
Twenty-seven Johnson kinfolk gathered for Christmas dinner, with more of Mrs. Johnson's relatives due in time for New Year's. An added guest was 19-year-old Lynda Bird Johnson's fiancé, Bernard Rosenbach of nearby Comfort, Tex., newly elevated to the rank of Navy lieutenant, junior grade. He's soon to be sent to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Johnson revealed.
The President introduced all of his family as they gathered to be photographed.
It was late afternoon before the Johnsons got to their presents and then sat down to the table to feast on roast turkey with corn bread stuffing and giblet gravy, sweet potato pie with marshmallow topping, string beans, salad and hot rolls. The desert was fruit cake, "traditional in my country," Mrs. Johnson said, plus a family favorite, ambrosia — oranges and pineapple topped with finely grated coconut.
The President, his wife and daughters have been dieting, but they forgot about it for the holiday and added eggnog to the evening gaiety.
Among the Christmas gifts were dresses Johnson bought for his wife and his eldest daughter, Lynda Bird.
After the family dinner ended at 4:30 p.m., the President called for his helicopter and took a 17-minute ride to visit Haywood Ranch, the 4,561-acre spread he owns in partnership with his friend and attorney, A. W. Moursund. Then he switched to a speedboat to ride around one of the highland lakes along the Pedernales River.
When Johnson announced he planned to get up at 6:30 a.m. today, his wife sighed, "I hope not."

language difficulties.
The small Turkish and Greek army garrisons remained at opposite ends of this capital. Their movement from their treaty bases into Nicosia Christmas Day led to fears of a showdown that might embroil Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Greek and Turkish Cypriots generally have observed the Christmas Day cease-fire, ending a conflict that began Saturday with an exchange of gunfire between a Greek Cypriot police patrol and Turkish Cypriots.

But a few shots still could be heard at times from the north-east sector of the border dividing the Greek and Turkish sectors of Nicosia as the first British column entered the Turkish sector.

The government of Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president, appealed for public cooperation with the joint Greek-Turkish-British patrols "so that the task of the forces in assisting in restoration of law and order may be more effectively achieved."

The latest eruption of fighting in the long antagonism between the Mediterranean island's Greek majority and Turkish minority aroused growing international concern.

Cyprus asked for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council, charging Turkey with aggression and use of force. Turkey denied the charges.

Britain ordered 1,000 infantrymen flown to Cyprus to reinforce the 10,000-man British garrison, who are mostly Royal Air Force personnel untrained for street fighting.

From his ran in Texas, President Johnson appealed to Cypriots to make any sacrifice to end "this terrible fraternal strife." He also promised "to support any and all actions" by Britain, Greece and Turkey to achieve peace.

The conflict also caused deep concern at the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. Both Turkey and Greece are NATO members. An open breach between them over Cyprus would weaken the alliance's eastern flank. NATO's permanent council met Christmas to consider the crisis.

In addition to the British troops, there are 950 Greek soldiers and 650 Turkish troops on the island under the 1960 treaty granting Cyprus independence from Britain.

Since a Christmas Eve cease-fire, the fighting has simmered down to infrequent bursts of shooting.

Turkey and Greece became directly involved in the dispute when their troops, stationed at adjoining camps outside of Nicosia, moved into the capital Christmas Day. The Greeks said they took up positions in the Greek quarter after Turkish troops went into the Turkish quarter.

Fighting began when a Greek Cypriot police patrol halted some Turkish Cypriots. Each side accused the other of firing first.

Although 80 per cent of the Cyprus population is of Greek origin, the island is only 40 miles off Turkey, which has a long claim on it.

The current trouble stems from Makarios' recent proposals to change the Cyprus constitution to strip the Turkish community of its veto rights on legislation.

Although the proposals also would explicitly define the rights of the Turkish minority, they see them as an erosion of their constitutional rights. The Greek Cypriots say the elimination of the veto is necessary to prevent blocking of necessary legislation.

Firm Wants to Sell Properties

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Southwestern States Telephone Co. has asked the state Public Service Commission for authority to sell some of its telephone properties in seven Arkansas counties to Four States Telephone Co.

Four States is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Southwestern States Co.

The properties involved in the proposed transaction are in Arkansas, Clay, Jefferson, Lonoke, Monroe, Prairie and Randolph counties.

The net value of the properties is $139,849.

The application also asked approval for Four States to issue and sell 50,000 additional shares of common stock to its parent firm.

Southwestern States is based in Brownwood, Tex.

Indian pottery is found in great quantities along the Arkansas River and to a lesser extent along all of the streams of the state.

MEET THE INSPECTOR—Peter Sellers, high-ranking English member of the royal family of movie comedians, has outstripped all previous efforts as a laugh producer in his role of bumbling Police Inspector Jacques Clouseau in the new film, "The Pink Panther." Sellers now is carrying the role over into another movie, "A Shot in the Dark." Here, Sellers, right, as Clouseau with one of his more "dangerous criminals" in tow.

Pattern of Religion Has Changed

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A changing pattern of religious relationships in the United States emerged in 1963.

In communities across the nation, Protestants and Roman Catholics began conferring together, often praying together, and in some fields, working together.

This was, on the hometown scene, the big religious story of the year.

It stemmed from events, both in the churches and out of them, the result of the tides of history.

From the Vatican Ecumenical Council, and its dramatic bid for renewal and closer ties among all Christians, a new open-door attitude spread to the local environments, bringing unprecedented contacts and interchange.

Roman Catholic bishops appeared at Protestant-Orthodox gatherings, and vice versa. Parish priests and pastors visited each other's congregations, discussed their varying customs.

It was an interflow, unparalleled in history.

The nation's racial upheaval also tightened the interfaith bonds. For the first Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish representatives met nationally in Chicago last January to join forces for racial justice.

The upshot was the formation of interreligious councils on race in cities across the country. More than 40 of them have sprung up, and others were planned.

Another jolting event, the assassination of President Kennedy, also stirred a sense of common identity among citizens of all faiths, in their grief, their self-examination and rededication.

The year was packed with history-making religious events. Among them:

The death of Pope John XXIII, that compassionate, gentle and open-hearted man who lit a new light of renewal and spiritual kinship where suspicions and antagonism had smoldered before.

The election of Pope Paul VI, who pledged himself to carry on the reforms initiated by his predecessor.

The surprising, preliminary agreements turned up in the six-denomination consultation on church union, involving Methodists, United Presbyterians, Christian (Disciples) churches, Episcopalians, the Evangelical United Brethren and the United Church of Christ.

The Supreme Court decision forbidding officially sponsored devotions in the public schools, an action that stimulated efforts for fresh means of according religion its proper place in education.

Pope Paul's decision to make an unprecedented visit to the Holy Land, mirroring the new openness of Rome to the world, and to other Christians and Jews for whom Palestine also is hallowed ground.

TINKERING WITH HISTORY

From time to time, well-meaning, sincere and patriotic groups raise questions about the contents and the authors of school textbooks. Each time these questions arise there follows a howl of criticism that individuals and groups who question textbooks are "too nosy," are injecting their own political views upon the teachers and thus this represents a violation of academic freedom.

Public issues such as these are with us in Mississippi at this time; these same issues have been with us before and will probably continue to be so.

Serious-minded study groups, we feel, have a right to take a hard look at education practices and we are confident that serious-minded educators will listen to findings by responsible people. Re-writing history and raising questions about textbooks is not a subject confined to Mississippi and other states of this union. Insider's Newsletter has the following report:

"A new idea to promote unity and world peace will soon invade European classrooms. Educators in West Germany, France, Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries are sponsoring a project to rewrite European history books designed to deemphasize nationalism. First effort: The International Schoolbook Institute at Brunswick, Germany, is publishing a 'European History' which expurgates references found in other history books to people and events which might offend one country or another. Examples: The Danish king who conquered Stockholm is no longer referred to as 'Christian the Tyrant.' Also, French and British translations have accepted a radical new formulation of the causes of World War I, now presented as the product of complex forces and absolving Kaiser Wilhelm II of sole responsibility."

It doesn't take a genius to detect that the one-worlders, peace-at-any-price crowd is active around the globe. Tinkering with history and the destruction of American traditions through shrewd textbook manipulation is a dangerous thing. Let serious-minded groups continue to analyze textbooks calmly and in the same vein let serious-minded educators calmly listen when storm signals of false doctrines creep into the classrooms, moulding grounds for the minds of the next generation of leaders. — The Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger and Daily News

Arkansas.

The increase, from $2.56 to $3.06, was to become effective Dec. 31.

A public hearing was set for Feb. 18 on a protest petition filed by the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce. The chamber asked that the increase be refused by the commission or suspended pending an investigation.

The commission said the charge would remain at the present level pending an investigation.

WIFE GOES TO BAT FOR STEPCHILDREN

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My husband disowns his daughters by a former marriage. Not a day passes that he doesn't tell me they are no goods. What can you expect when their mother gave them no love? Their father was as proud of them as I till they got into trouble. That was years ago but he hasn't spoken to them since, even though the two married well.

When I spoke up for those girls he said, "I'll drive all three of you from this house." I begged him to take them in and let us live as one happy family but he refused. Eventually we had children of our own. Once I sought to have them and their half-sisters meet but he threatened to take my babies away. He's a hard man. Finally, I left him to go with the kids to my sister's. My husband broke into the house while I was away at work and stole the children. In order to recover them, I had to return to him. He still harps on what his daughters did years ago.

blames me because I stood up for them. I got him to see our pastor but things grow steadily worse. Seems like I have nothing left to live for. —Devastated

Dear Devastated: Let bygones be bygones. Your stepdaughters are presumably happily married, possibly with families of their own. You and your husband have your own children and they should be your primary concern.

You are only making matters worse by continuing to champion his daughters toward whom he feels such bitterness. Playing the role of peacemaker is always difficult but highly satisfying when results ensue. If the only reward for your efforts is more dissension, then that's the time to abandon the role. There's a definite limit to what can be accomplished when one side remains adamant.

Talk over the problem with him not in a spirit of recrimination but in a spirit of constructive planning for the future. If you are unable to work this out together, insist that the issue be buried once and for all. It's self-punishment in the most painful degree to keep alive and keep feeding on an unhappy occurrence that took place years ago.

Nor is this a healthy atmosphere in which to raise your children. You owe your own flesh and blood more than you owe your stepdaughters. By adopting the attitude that you have nothing left to live for you are compounding the original error, regardless of whose it may have been. In effect you are punishing the innocent for the wrongs of the guilty. Concentrate on the present and future.

Life is too short to keep fanning the flames of animosity. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Guidance to Gracious Living."

Dear Mrs. Erskine: In a recent column you stated that American Airlines requires a minimum of two years of college plus two more years of office work with the line. Our (A.A.) stewardess requirement brochure states: "Education and Experience — minimum, high school diploma plus business experience; college and/or extensive working experience is preferred." Naturally, a girl has to do something between high school and age 20. Sincerely, P.M., American Airlines.

Dear Helen: I have seen so many girls and even women out holidayshopping and parading the streets with their hair all done up in curlers. I think they look dreadful. What do you think? —Old-Fashioned

Dear Old-Fashioned: I not only agree but deplore the low morale which leaves these women so indifferent to one of the greatest feminine assets—personal lure. No wonder husbands stray!

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Gifts Exchanged

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy kept Christmas for her children then went by automobile to the home of her father-in-law for private Mass, said by the Rev. John Cavanaugh, a close friend.

Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, did not come out with their mother when a small crowd and news photographers gathered at the Joseph P. Kennedy home.

The children exchanged gifts in the morning and again in the evening after a family gathering at their grandfather's home.

Upsurge in Business at End of Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This year began with storm clouds in the domestic skies and setbacks abroad. It is ending with a strong business and industrial upsurge at home marred only temporarily by a national tragedy and with apparent clearing of international skies.

A dock strike had East and Gulf ports tied up in January. Worse than average winter storms ravaged both North and South. The government worried lest unemployment rise more rapidly. The business upswing was stalled and many talked openly of a coming recession.

The late President John F. Kennedy plugged for his tax cut proposal as an antislump measure.

America's grand scheme for an Atlantic trading union was set back on its heels when France blackballed England's entrance into the European Common Market. The United States braced for possible trade wars.

But there was an early spring for the economy. When new problems appeared during the year, as they always do, general confidence recovered steadily.

Steel production rose rapidly, largely because customers were stocking up in fear of a strike. But a new contract stressing fringe benefits rather than wage boosts cleared the air. It also made way for selective price rises later in the year. And after a slow summer while customers worked off their inventories, steel output closed the year in a strong upturn.

Chrysler celebrated its profit comeback by announcing a two-for-one stock split and increased dividends in February, and repeating this in October. Autos in general racked up their second straight seven-million car year and saw a shot one a very likely bet. There was a sad note—closing of Studebaker production in its American plants.

The stock market weathered a three-part report by a Securities and Exchange Commission study group that found many practices to criticize but was less upsetting than most had expected at the start of the year. Popular stock price averages recovered all lost ground from the 1962 crash and by September were topping their late 1961 record highs. In December they went to still loftier heights.

Raising of stock credit margins to 70 per cent cash from 50 per cent didn't faze the bulls. Commodity markets were rocked by a scandal in vegetable oils which spilled over into the securities markets and into international banking. This is still on the unfinished business list as the year ends.

A railroad strike was threatened at intervals during the year, each time postponed by government intervention, but major problems remained unsettled at year's end.

The federal minimum wage went to $1.25 an hour from $1.15 in September, benefitting 2.6 million workers. Total employment rose during the year, but the percentage of the labor force out of work stayed between 5.5 and 5.9 per cent.

Business profits rose steadily, with the year setting a record. Many leading corporations celebrated by either splitting their stocks or raising dividends or making liberal year-end bonuses.

In the final months of the year Communist nations were dickering with the United States for surplus wheat and other grains.

On Nov. 22 the nation and the world were shocked by the assassination of President Kennedy. The stock market had a few minutes of time to break sharply before it was closed. The rebound was even greater. Business and consumer assessment of President Johnson's leadership was quickly man-

Arkansas Woman Hurt in Wreck

WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP)—A Continental Trailways Bus collided with a pickup truck on U.S. Highway 61 Wednesday, injuring three women bus passengers slightly.

The injured included Mrs. Pauline Harris, 67, of Searcy, Ark., who suffered facial lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said the bus collided with a truck driven by Aubrey Brown, 20, of Flippin, Ark., as Brown attempted to turn left off the highway 14 miles south of West Plains.

The bus went into a deep ditch but remained upright.

The other injured were Mrs. Stella B. Wright, 70, of Springfield, Mo., and Charlene Smith, 28, of Kansas City.

Had the Tools But Couldn't Escape

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two deputy sheriffs spotted a lock missing from a cell block door in the county jail.

A check of the jail turned up: A 1½ foot steel hinge that had been sawed from a jail door. Hacksaw blades. Two blanket ropes. Two bars that had been sawed from a window.

A steel plate that had been cut from the window.

None of the eight prisoners in the jail escaped. Sheriff Duffie Searcy revealed today that deputies Talmage Mayben and Marvin Teague discovered the planned break Sunday and found the articles hidden in various places in the jail.

County Judge Lon Warneke has authorized a new steel saw-proof bars for the jail.

Four of the eight prisoners were put in maximum security cells.

A novel about BENEDICT ARNOLD by PHILIP VAIL
© 1963 by Philip Vail

THE STORY: Arnold's command has decided to besiege Quebec.

XVII
A shortage of food forced Benedict to abandon his siege temporarily in mid November. He moved inland down the bank of the St. Lawrence to the little town of Pointe-aux-Trembles, 20 miles from Quebec, and occupied the place. Two days later he learned that General Montgomery had captured Montreal. Montgomery himself, confirming the news in a letter, promised to bring Benedict ample supplies of food, cannon and ammunition. Mathias Ogden was sent to Montreal to ask for clothing as well.

Montgomery arrived at Pointe-aux-Trembles late in November.

Montgomery was as impetuous and short-tempered as Benedict; the two senior officers struck up a friendship immediately. They agreed that Quebec should be invested again, so the siege was promptly resumed. Neither was discouraged when they learned that reinforcements had been pouring into the beleaguered garrison and that Gen. Sir Guy Carleton, a talented and courageous officer who had escaped from Montreal, had arrived to command the defenses.

An artillery duel in which the heavy British cannon knocked the smaller American guns out of action was fought on Dec. 5. That night Montgomery and Benedict conferred privately in the parlor of the Caldwell mansion. It was plain that Carleton had no intention of repeating the Marquis de Montcalm's mistake of fighting a battle in the open.

Two small units conducted diversionary raids on the upper town where most of the British defenses were believed to be concentrated. In the meantime, Benedict and Montgomery commanded two separate columns that moved toward different objectives in the lower town. Both carefully avoided the great fort.

Montgomery started off toward the city on a road following the river, while Benedict led his brigade up a narrow path up the face of the cliff that was Quebec's strongest natural shield.

For some minutes there was no sound except the crunching of men's boots in the snow as they climbed the slippery path. Suddenly the rattle of musket fire in the distance broke the silence. Benedict smiled. The diversionary attack had begun.

The brigade's vanguard halted for a moment to rest, and a courier brought a message forward from the main body. Men repeated it to each other in whispers. Ensign Ogden, directly behind Benedict, shivered when he heard it.

"Colonel!" he muttered, "the artillerymen can't drag their guns over the ice."

Benedict wiped a film of snow from his face. "Pass the word," he replied. "We'll storm the palisades without the help of the artillery. Tell Colonel Morgan to move his scaling ladders forward."

Heavy scaling ladders, so cumbersome that each had to be carried by two men, were passed forward. Word was sent to Benedict. He pointed his sword toward the top of the cliff, then started to climb again.

Suddenly the whole palisade came alive. Flashes of fire blinked up and down the line, bullets whistled overhead, and trumpets blared urgently. Benedict knew the presence of his brigade had been detected, so he abandoned secrecy. "Let's take that wall boys!" he shouted and, waving his sword, he began to run.

A bullet whined past his head, but he neither flinched nor slowed his pace. After a breathless race, he reached the top of the cliff, and the 40 members of his vanguard assembled behind him. "We'll rush the palisades, put up the ladders and start climbing."

He was no more than 10 feet from the palisades when a British musket ball struck a rock somewhere to his left. It ricocheted crazily, lodged in his calf and his leg buckled under him. He lost his balance and fell, but in spite of the fierce pain that shot up through his entire body, he pulled himself erect again.

The troops had halted. Benedict lost his temper. "Don't wait, boys! Keep moving! Take that wall!"

"Please, Colonel, you need medical attention," Ogden said. "I'll have you tried for insubordination if you move me from here!" Benedict twisted painfully as Colonel Morgan came up to him. "Dan, take command!"

The Virginian waved the main body forward. "How do you feel, Benedict?"

"I'll be fine as soon as you have captured the city."

Villanova's Wildcats Pull Big Upset Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova's eager, active Wildcats turned a fifth foul and a string of seven into the biggest upset of the day as the nation's collegiate holiday basketball schedule whipped into full stride Thursday.

Eight major tournaments opened Thursday — and generally followed form in their first round action — 13 more are scheduled to start today and still another begins Saturday.

Villanova turned its surprise on previously unbeaten Dayton in the first round of the Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival, coming from behind for 77-73 triumph over the highly-considered Flyers.

The Wildcats rallied from a 66-60 deficit when Dayton's 6-foot-11 Henry Finkel collected his fifth foul with 6:54 to go. Moments later they reeled off a string of seven straight points for a 71-70 lead and weren't headed again. Finkel, limited to eight points in the first half, finished with 31.

Villanova, now 7-1, thus joined unbeaten Utah, Minnesota and St. Joseph's, Pa., in the Saturday semifinals of the Garden affair. Friday is an off day.

Utah pulled away from St. John's, N.Y. 73-66; Minnesota beat Cornell 89-77 and St. Joseph's outlasted Providence 60-53.

The other major events generally followed form, through New York University, ranked 10th in the nation, lost its third in four starts. It can't be called an upset, however, because the Violets wilted before mighty Michigan, unbeaten and ranked third in the nation, 83-74 in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic.

The other ranked teams in action, No. 4 UCLA and No. 9 Oregon State, had a much easier time of it. The Bruins, defending champions in the Los Angeles affair, bombed Yale 95-65, while Oregon State, which has won seven straight Far West Classics, took a step toward another one with an 87-57 romp over Louisiana State at Portland, Ore.

UCLA had no trouble in handling Yale for its seventh victory and joined Illinois and Pittsburgh in the Friday semifinals at Los Angeles. Illinois had to work hard for a 92-86 edge over West Virginia and Pittsburgh outran Southern California 82-72.

Seven-foot Mel Counts pushed in 48 points in Oregon State's rout of LSU in the Far West. Colorado State also gained the semifinals with a 61-56 decision over Iowa. The first round will be completed tonight with Brigham Young vs. Seattle and Oregon vs. Washington State.

More Time for Duck Hunters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas hunters can shoot ducks from sunrise to sunset, beginning Saturday, for the rest of the season.

The season ends Jan. 5. The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission voted Thursday to extend shooting hours from sunrise to sunset, instead of sunrise to noon.

Nelson Cox, commission director, announced the action. No other rules were changed. The vote was in a telephone poll, Cox said.

The hunting extension was made because hunters sometimes cannot get into hunting areas until late in the day, Cox said, and because it was feared that cold weather might drive ducks further south out of Arkansas.

TEXAS TOSS—With the ball-handling skill which helped the Longhorns finish the season undefeated, quarterback Tommy Wade, left, and linebacker Timmy Doerr of Texas play catch as they jog around the practice field in Austin. The Steers clash with Navy in the Dallas Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

A-B Tourney Underway in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Defending state Class B basketball champion Lake Hamilton overcame England's ball control tactics and fought into the semifinals of the Class A-B division of Little Rock University's invitational basketball tournament Thursday night.

The Wolves downed England 46-33 after trailing 17-16 at half-time.

In other A-B games, Joe T. Robinson and Carlisle also came from behind to defeat Lonoke and Carlisle 68-54 and 50-43, respectively.

North Little Rock romped on Sylvan Hills 65-33 in one Class AA — AAA game and Malvern stumped Benton 63-50 in another.

Games today include, in A-B, McGehee against Casa and Carlisle against Sheridan, and in Class AA — AAA, Mabelvale against Conway, Malvern against Pine Bluff and Little Rock Central against Hot Springs.

Central and Sheridan are defending tourney champions in their respective divisions.

Danny Sheets hit 16 points and Ronnie Sheets got 13 to lead Lake Hamilton, which pumped in 13 points in the third quarter while holding the Lions to a single point.

Carlisle's 21-point effort in the last quarter buried a 30-29 lead. Mike Eubanks got 20 points for the Bisons and Gary Glenn hit 17 for Perryville.

Lonoke trailed most of the way against the Senators, but grabbed a 37-36 lead just after halftime. Joe T. Robinson then pulled away for good. Tom Anderson gunned in 18 for the Senators and Jim Todd hit 12 for Lonoke.

Bill Niven led a four-player assault on double-figure scoring by North Little Rock as the Wildcats dumped Sylvan Hills. Randy Breece netted 18 for the Bears.

And 6-foot-6 James Chancellor hit 17 to pace Malvern's victory over the Panthers, who were led by Jerry Fisher's 15 points.

U.S. Netters Crush Best Australians

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Grimly determined Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, fighting tenaciously for every point, crushed Australia's famed tennis team of Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser in a bitterly fought doubles matches today and moved within one match of regaining the historic Davis Cup.

The American collegians battered their way to victory by storming the Cup-defending Aussies' weak link — 30-year-old Neale Fraser — in the marathon four-set duel in 102-degree heat. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 11-9, 11-9.

The chunky, 22-year-old McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., and the slender, suddenly matured, 21-year-old Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., can clinch the best-of-five series of the Challenge Round by capturing one of the two final singles matches Saturday.

McKinley, who atoned for his loss to Emerson in singles Thursday by his magnificent play in the doubles, will oppose 19-year-old John Newcombe, the latest young Aussie tennis prodigy who lost to Ralston in a thrilling five-setter. In the other match, the two singles victors, Ralston, the reformed Peck's Bad Boy of tennis, and Emerson, the rangy, wiry, 27-year-old Queenslander, will meet.

Fraser and Emerson never had been beaten in Davis Cup doubles until they ran into the confident, razor-sharp Americans in the packed Memorial Drive Stadium on this hot, sunny day.

After the 1-1 split in singles, the doubles became a pivotal match and the pressure told on Fraser. The Yanks broke him twice in winning the first set and they charged past him in the third and fourth sets by taking his services in the 20th and final game each time.

There were only a total of seven service breaks in the pulsating contest that had the 7,000 partisan fans on the edge of their seats most of the time.

In the last two sets, with the pressure mounting with every shot, it was Fraser whose service crumbled in the end. In both sets, service was held until the end.

Thus the Americans, in their first appearance in the Challenge Round since 1959, are just one victory away from ending Australia's four-year hold on the Cup. The United States last won it in 1958 when Peruvian Alejandro Ornela, University of Southern California student, Barry MacKay and Hamilton Richardson upset Australia 3-2 at Brisbane.

Green Bay Acts to Keep Lombardi

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Directors of the Green Bay Packers have decided the best way to keep coach-hungry National Football League rivals away from Vince Lombardi's door is to be sure he likes his contract.

Packer President Dominic Olejniczak announced Thursday that Lombardi's five-year contract had been torn up and he had signed a new five-year agreement. The old pact still had two years to run. The new deal puts him under contract to the Packers until Jan. 1, 1969.

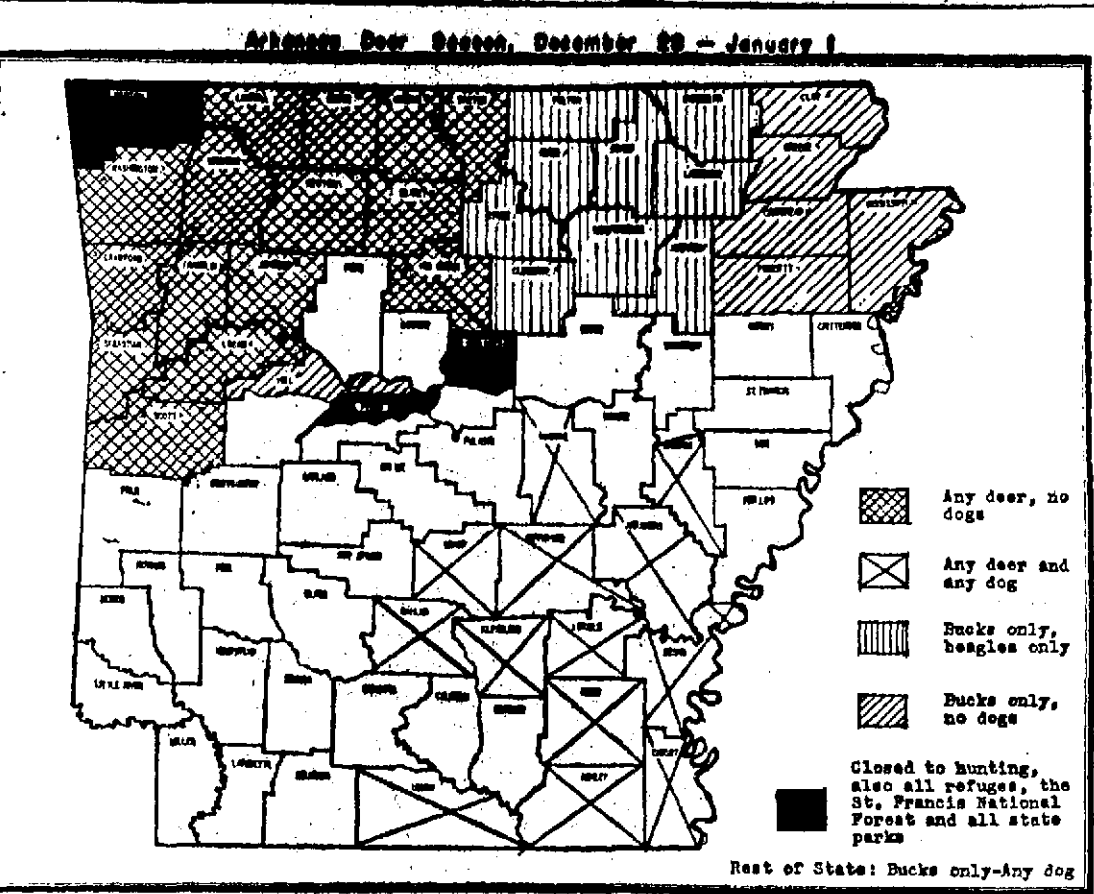

The announcement came after another round of rumors that others were interested in Lombardi. The reports said that the Los Angeles Rams and the San Francisco 49ers of the NFL and West Point and Notre Dame had all wondered sometime or other during the fall whether Lombardi could be lured away.

There was no information on terms, but the old contract reportedly paid Lombardi about $65,000 a year.

Lombardi, who serves as Packer coach and general manager, said, "Naturally I'm real happy."

The agreement was the third five-year pact given Lombardi since he took over the Packers in 1959. Since then Green Bay has won three consecutive Western Division titles, two straight league championships and posted a record of 50 victories, 15 defeats and a tie.

The Packers' bid for an unprecedented third straight championship was turned back this year when they finished second to the Chicago Bears by a half-game. The Packers won 11 games, lost two to the Bears and played a tie with the Detroit Lions.

Quarterback Who Throws Has No Peer

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Check over the list of most valuable players from past East-West games and you find the quarterback who can throw the football has no peer.

You'll also find a host of upsets. Put that together and you'll be confused. For the West has the passing quarterbacks for this 39th annual meeting Saturday and also rates as the favorite at the 1:45 p.m. PST kickoff time approaches.

Odds-makers put the pre-game difference at three points favoring the West. They also like aerial warfare.

For the long bomb, or the short bomb for that matter, fills the first arsenal for this nationally televised (NBC) game which 60,000 fans will view in person at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

Triggering the attack are three of the nation's finest collegiate quarterbacks—Don Trull of Baylor, Pete Beathard of Southern California and Bill Munson of Utah State.

Navigrating the ball to its eventual target are such receivers as Vern Burke of Oregon State, voted the most valuable player on the West Coast, Dave Parks of Texas Tech, an All-American, Mel Profit of UCLA who draws the starting assignment offensively over his All-American compatriot, and speedster Willie Brown of Southern Cal.

One thing may stand in the way of this attack — the East line.

Somehow end Don Underwood of Michigan State became a member of this unit. Granted he is a fine football player, but he weighs only 210 pounds and this is light for the East line. The lightest, in fact.

Tackles Carl Eller of Minnesota, Roger Pillath of Wisconsin, Ernest Borghetti of Pittsburgh and Kent Pike of Northwestern weigh 250, 245, 242, and 230. The guard situation seems almost as formidable with Notre Dame's Bob Lehmann at 220, Iowa's Mike Reilly at 215, Michigan's Joe O'Donnell at 242 and Ohio State's Tom Jenkins at 228.

Some of these fellows will be pursuing Trull, Beathard or Munson much of the afternoon during which the weather may also work to the East's advantage.

A possibility of rain exists and rain would be less damaging to the running attack of the East than to the passing attack of the West.

Says Catlett Is Always a Lawyer First

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Leon B. Catlett, heir apparent to the Democratic state chairmanship, is known in Arkansas first as a lawyer and second as a politician.

But that situation may change if, as expected, he is named to succeed Tom Harper of Fort Smith at the Democratic State Committee meeting in Little Rock Dec. 30.

Catlett has Gov. Orval E. Faubus' support and that usually is enough for Arkansas Democrats. Harper, who has held the chairmanship since shortly after Faubus was elected in 1954, is due to be named national committeeman.

Catlett, 54, said he has been a Democrat and worked for the party "so long I can't remember when I started."

He describes himself as an "Arkansas" Democrat, meaning he does not commit himself to policies of the national party.

Catlett supported Faubus in the governor's first race in 1954 and in the Faubus administration he has played an increasingly important role in state government and party affairs.

He became secretary of the state party in 1959 and in 1960 Faubus placed him on the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees, a position of tremendous prestige.

Catlett is a native of Dardanelle and a 1932 graduate of the University of Arkansas Law School. He became law practice in Little Rock in 1933 and is now senior partner in the firm of Catlett and Henderson.

He is married but has no children.

A state chairman Catlett will preside over State Committee meetings and act as spokesman for the party.

But he will not be, in fact, the head of the party. In Arkansas, a traditionally Democratic state this role belongs to the incumbent governor.

In some two-party state the state chairman of the parties wield considerable influence and power, often a much or more than official their party manager to elect.

Saturday Is QB Day in Football

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just as quarterbacks dominated much of the play during the regular season, they'll be at it again Saturday as the college football bowl business continues on a fulltime basis.

The four games on the schedule, though, are only a prelude to New Year's Day when the bowl season reaches its peak with the Cotton, Rose, Orange and Sugar contests.

Leading the parade Saturday will be North Carolina and Air Force in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The other contests pit the East and the West in San Francisco, the Blue and the Gray in Montgomery and Coast Guard and Western Kentucky in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

Among the name quarterbacks on the various rosters are Terry Isaacson of Air Force, Don Trull of the West squad and Larry Rakestraw, playing for the Gray.

Isaacson, a colorful, clutch signal-caller, sparked the Falcons to a 7-3 record, including three games won in the closing minutes. North Carolina, however, is a slight favorite to halt Isaacson and win the nationally televised (CBS) contest.

North Carolina, which won eight of 10 games, will rely heavily on quarterback Junior Edge, end Bob Lacey and halfback Ken Willard. All won various conference offensive titles.

Starting television time of the game is 1:30 p.m. EST.

Trullo the Baylor star headed for the American Football League, will try and pass the West to its 19th victory in the 39th Shrine game. The East has won 16 times while four contests ended in ties.

The East will throw some giant linemen against Trull, including 255-pound All-American tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota. Wisconsin's 245-pound Roger Pillath and Ernie Boggetti, 242, of Pittsburgh.

Offensively, the East has quarterbacks Pete Liske of Penn State and Ron DiGravio of Purdue for the nationally televised (NBC) clash.

The game gets under way at 4:45 p.m. EST.

In the 25th Blue-Gray battle, Rakestraw, Georgia's prolific passer, will have his favorite target, end Mickey Babb, on hand. The Blue team, basing its offense on a ground attack, will seek its fifth triumph in the last six years and its 11th over-all. The Gray has won 14.

Still another well-known quarterback, this one retired, is involved in the Tangerine battle Saturday night. He is Otto Graham, great pro quarterback who coached the Coast Guard to an undefeated season. Western Kentucky also was undefeated but was tied once in 10 games.

The schedule for New Year's Day has Navy and Texas in the Cotton, Illinois and Washington in the Rose, Nebraska and Auburn in the Orange and Alabama and Mississippi in the Sugar.

Boston and Buffalo in a Rhubarb

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — With the Eastern Division title playoff game just a day away, Boston and Buffalo of the American Football League were involved Monday in a rhubarb over the Patriots' activated halfback, Ron Burton.

The Patriots and Bills meet Saturday in the first playoff in the league's four-year history.

But Ralph Wilson Jr., Bills' owner, filed an official protest Thursday with league headquarters over the activation of Burton, who had been out of action since pre-season drills. Wilson contends the action violates the AFL's constitution and by-laws.

A league spokesman said Commissioner Joe Foss would rule on the protest today.

In returning Burton to the active roster Wednesday, Boston apparently acted under a memo the league sent to coaches and general managers. The memo said either team could add for the game up to two players who had been waived or deferred during the season.

Wilson maintained the memo is an amendment to the constitution and by-laws. An amendment must be voted upon by the owners.

Buffalo Coach Lou Saban feels Burton, who underwent an operation for a slipped disc, gives Boston an advantage.

Burton gained 548 yards rushing last year and caught 40 passes for 461 yards.

The game will be nationally televised by ABC from snow-rimmed War Memorial Stadium. Starting time is 1 p.m. EST.

The winner moves on to the AFL championship showdown against the San Diego Chargers at San Diego, Jan. 5.

A sudden-death overtime will be used in the event the two evenly matched teams wind up in a tie at the end of regulation time. The Pats and Bills split two games during the season and finished with identical 7-6-1 records.

Neither team has ever won an Eastern championship. And neither team expects to play on anything but a frozen field, despite tons of chemical crystals and straw heaped on the turf in an attempt to provide a frost-free surface.

"A frozen field could put us behind the eight-ball," says Boston Coach Mike Holovak. "A frozen field will help the Bills a lot more than it will help us."

Not so, says Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

"I'm concerned about the weather, which I think will be a big factor," counters Saban. "The footing concerns us most."

Holovak figures a frozen field would aid the Bills because it would have less effect on Buffalo's Cookie Gilchrist, a straightforward blaster. He says his No. 1 ground gainer Larry Garron, "is a cutter and is best on a fast field."
